Briner Appointed To H.S. Board

BY CARL E. VENSTROM
Editor and Publisher

Chester Briner, of Mission Viejo, has been appointed to the board of trustees of the Tustin Union High School District to fill out the term of Mrs. Mildred Windolph who resigned in June.

Four board members are presently from the Tustin area and Briner's appointment will give area representation to the residents south of Tustin proper.

Briner was one of three residents recommended by an El Toro-Mission Viejo committee to the Board at a July meeting. Mrs. Windolph, in her letter of resignation, had also recommended that the board replace her with a resident south of Tustin to give representation to this rapidly growing area.

The board of trustees of the San Joaquin School District, in an official letter dated July 6, also recommended to the Tustin board that they appoint "a qualified resident of the San Joaquin School District to fill an existing vacancy on the Tustin Union High School District Governing Board."

The RANCHO REPORTER has also given strong editorial support to the appointment of a board member to the south of Tustin.

Briner is a retired Air Force major who is presently a stock broker associated with the firm of Crowell, Weedon & Co. who are presently opening their new offices in the Rossmoor Building in Laguna Hills.

The new board of trustee member lives with his wife, Nancy, and a son, Emmett, at 26311 Turquesa, Mission Viejo. Emmett is a senior at the new Mission Viejo High School.

Briner is a graduate of the University of Maryland and has also completed work at Syracuse University. Previous to his entering the Air Force he and Mrs.

Briner were residents of Santa Ana.

The new board of trustee served on the citizen's Advisory Committee to the high school district during the past year and was an active speaker in support of the tax override for the high school district.

Briner has lived in Mission Viejo since last fall and is active in the Mission Viejo High School Boosters Club, the Saddleback Kiwanis of Laguna Hills, the newly formed Toastmasters for the El Toro-Mission Viejo-Laguna Hills area and is a member of Sigma Iota Epsilon management fraternity.

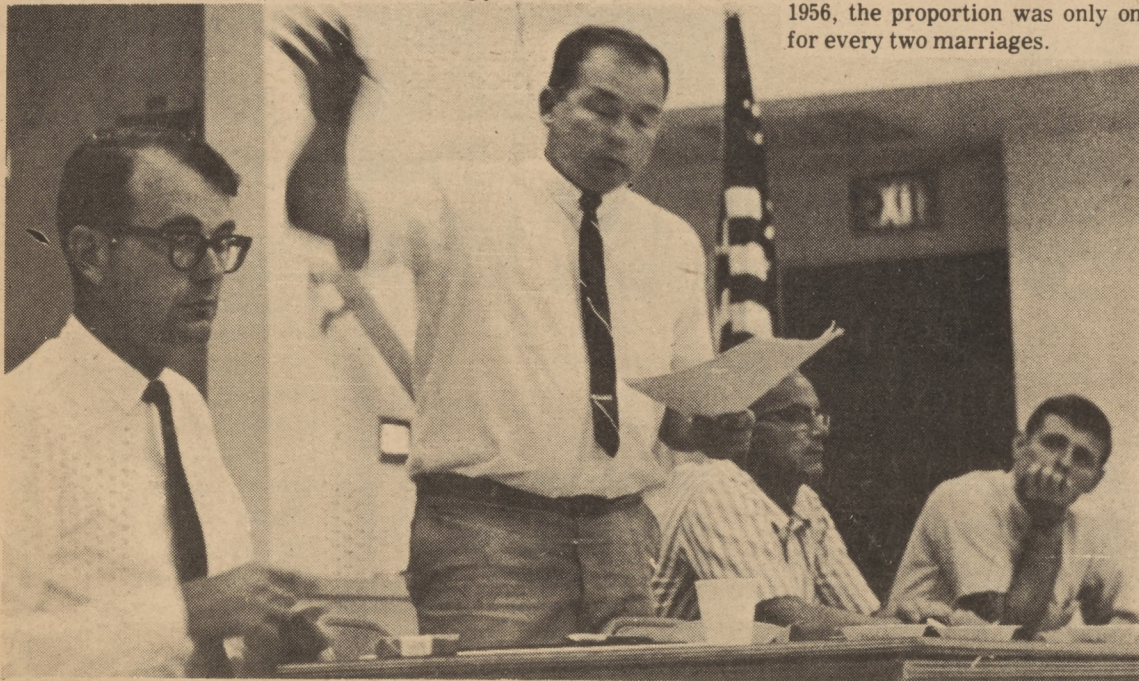

Briner also writes a weekly column entitled "Blue Chips" for the RANCHO REPORTER.

Amateur Golf; Local Course

Invitations to the First Annual Mission Viejo Amateur Invitational are being mailed to 160 of Southern California's finest amateur golfers, reports Ed Wampler, head professional at the Southeastern Orange County course.

To be held October 6, 7, and 8, the Invitational will be a 54-hole medal play tourney. The field will be limited to 80 golfers, all with a handicap of 6 or less.

More than $1000 in merchandise prizes, along with a perpetual trophy, will be presented at the awards dinner on Sunday, October 8. Deadline for entries is September 29.

EL TORO TOWN MEETING -- The Aliso Valley Homeowners Association held its regular meeting last week where local El Toro residents "spoke out" in meeting about the planning of their area. Left to right are Bill Millan, treasurer; Chuck Waltman, president; Herb Marshall, acting representative from Pasa Verde and Jim Valoutis, area representative. The meeting took place in the Olivewood School. Photo by Mike Wilde.

Editorial Review

LOCAL REPRESENTATION: This newspaper was delighted with the appointment of Mission Viejo's Chet Briner to the Tustin Union High School District's Board of Trustees. We have known Briner since he moved into the area last fall and have found him to be a responsible person. This appointment climaxes an editorial "push" of many months of wanting local representation on the high school board.

LOVE, SEX AND LIFE EDUCATION: The Rev. Robert H. Lange, pastor of Mount of Olives Lutheran Church in Mission Viejo, started a 12 week course last Wednesday for high school students on love and sex. This is a new concept in church education. The course is offered to the total youth of the community as well as to members of the church. The purpose of the course is to help parents on introducing this delicate subject to the youth of our community.

SKIRT LENGTH PROBLEMS, HAIR CUT PROBLEMS AND PARENT PROBLEMS: The Tustin Union High School District made news last week in the Los Angeles daily press, TV and county newspapers with conflict about grooming and dress. Glad to hear, at this writing, that most of the students have decided to pursue their education, and that the teachers can teach, the administrators can work with educational problems and that parents can pick up their daily chores. Hope that some of the parents will continue to attend the public board meetings on some of the other problems the district is faced with.

PROGRESS REPORT, SADDLEBACK JUNIOR COLLEGE: It was stimulating to attend the regular meeting of the board of trustees of the newly formed Saddleback JC last week. They are planning to offer classes in September of 1968; site not yet determined. Superintendent Jack Roper is presently receiving applications for the position of Dean of Instruction, position to be filled within the next 60 days.

Dear Editor...

We welcome your newspaper in our area.

With the new University park school opening we are establishing a Girl Scout Troop at the School. We also need Leaders and helping hands of all kinds from Mothers. The first meeting will be held the latter part of September.

If you could help us to inform the new members of the University Park area we would appreciate it.

Information about our plans for the coming year can be had in more detail by contacting the Santiago Girl Scout Council in Santa Ana or by calling me at 675-5605.

Sincerely,
Joan R. Craver (Mrs. John Craver)

What's Your Plan ?

"Like to parlay $2 a day into a $100,000 fortune?" That is the opening question in a very popular stock market investment course. Although it sounds like a "gimmick", the explanation that follows, in the course, is simple easy to apply to an individual's own program, and is based on fact.

Three things are involved: patience, willingness to initiate and follow a program, and growth in the American economy. The program used is one of dollar cost averaging, the most widely used formula plan for investing.

Dollar cost averaging was referred to briefly in an earlier column (June 28, 1967). In the example used in the investment courses, $2 per day, invested over a 28-year period, constituted a total investment of $20,377. The liquidation value of the investment was $200,793! During this time, the investment paid $76,839 in dividends.

Granted, 28 years is a long time to work a plan. However, when one realizes that only one out of every five people aged 65 can afford to retire, the long-range plan becomes more interesting to the working man of 45 or younger.

Dollar cost averaging is simple. You decide how much you can invest, on a regular basis. Then, you pick the investment. Finally, you invest the amount decided upon, regularly, regardless of the price per share.

The market, and the price of any stock will move up and down. The trend, over the price long pull, has always been upward. By investing the same dollar amount, regardless of price, you make the fluctuations work for you. When the price drops, you say to yourself, "Good, I can now buy more shares." When the price rises, say, "Good, I'm on my way to a profit."

There are some other factors to be considered in a dollar cost averaging program. More on this next week.

Crowell, Weedon and Company will hold an "open house" in our new offices next Thursday, September 28, 1:00 P.M. to 7:00 P.M. Refreshments will be served. Hope to see a lot of you there.
